Category: Vehicle telematics

Category: Vehicle technology Eaton, South Australia Eaton is a town in the Australian state of South Australia located about west of the state capital of Adelaide and about west of the municipal seat of Roxby Downs. It is situated within the federal division of Barker, the state electoral district of

Stuart and the local government area of the District Council of Mount Remarkable. History The townsite was laid out on a portion of Lot 39, Section 195 of the Hundred of Southport on 26 October 1892 when the “name of The Liscombe Estate” was suggested by the Secretary of the Department of Mines and Public Works and was granted. The first buildings in the town were constructed in 1893. The post office opened in December 1893. Eaton State School opened in 1895. The town's school has a state heritage listing. In 1920 it was described as being "a village of about 100 mostly miners in the south-eastern corner of the plan area between Pinnaroo and Roxby Downs". The federal subdivision of Eaton was created on 25 April 2013 including the portion of the cadastral unit of Hundred of Southport located to the east of the Mount Remarkable Highway including the locality of Halls Creek. The town has been approved as a town of the Mount Remarkable District Council. Demographics The 2006 census by the Australian Bureau of Statistics counted 750 people living within the town's boundaries.

Geography Eaton is located on the eastern side of the Adelaide Hills about west of the state capital of Adelaide. The town is bounded by the Mount Remarkable Range to the east and to the north and west by the Wakefield Valley, and is crossed by the Mount Remarkable Highway which becomes the Stuart Highway when it reaches Adelaide. The southeastern portion of the town is located on the southern end of Halls Creek, which flows into Sturt Lake located about east of the town. The town is located in the Saint Cubans Conservation Park. Facilities and services The town has a primary school, which has a state heritage listing 1cb139a0ed
