In the OnDesiredPositionChanged method I am setting the appropriate graphic of each UI element to the corresponding frame in the correct image in the correct collection, but it appears that after the UI elements are placed in the AsyncAction they are not updated until OnAfterUpdate, causing an inconsistency with some UI elements. The issue can be demonstrated by looking at the following code: public partial class MainWindow : Window { public MainWindow() { InitializeComponent(); var cancel = new AsyncAction(this); cancel.DesiredPosition = new Point(0, 0); leftText.DataContext = cancel; rightText.DataContext = cancel; cancel.Items.Add(leftText); cancel.Items.Add(rightText); cancel.Items.Add(leftButton); cancel.Items.Add(rightButton); cancel.Items.Add(cancel); cancel.OnDesiredPositionChanged += CancelDesiredPositionChanged; } private void CancelDesiredPositionChanged(object sender, PointDesiredPositionEventArgs e) { // THIS UPDATE WORKS Debug.WriteLine("Position changed to " + e.NewPosition); var cancel = sender as AsyncAction; cancel.Items[
